American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, s the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by MR. Amies. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.

A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two weeks ago, by a man of the name of Basset. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

"QUID PRO QUO."

A sprightly Lady, young and fair,
With arms all nude, and neck all bare,
At dinner near a Quaker sat;
And feeling much disposed to joke,
In playful accents thus she spoke:
"See, Friend, I toast thy broad brimm'd hat!"

The Quaker smil'd, and said, "Thou know'st
I ne'er use healths, nor give a toast,
Else from the challenge I'd not shrink;
Inclin'd to please so kind a lass,
I cheerfully would take my glass,
And to thy absent 'kerchief drink."

THE PARSON'S WIG.

Some years ago, a New England Clergyman, somewhat advanced in years, thought proper to purchase a new wig for his own use. In doing this he consulted his own taste, and procured one which he thought becoming his age and station. On his appearing with it the next Sabbath at church, his parishioners were surprised; and more attention was paid to the wig, than to the words of him who wore it. A general dissatisfaction prevailed; all were displeased. Some on one account, and some on another—one thought it wanted more curls, and others less—one thought it too large, and others too small—some thought it ought to be powdered, and others that it ought not; and as to color, one preferred black, another grey, and another red. Others again thought it was not placed properly on the preacher's head; one good old lady expressed a wish that he would place the back part in front, as it would then be a terror to evil doers, and keep the playful children in order.

By the time the evening service was ended, the discontent had become so great, that a committee was appointed to wait on the parson, and remonstrate with him on the subject. They assured him that they felt a great interest in his welfare and that the complaint against the wig was general through the parish—that they paid him for preaching, and therefore had an undoubted right to regulate his appearance; and finally, that the cause of religion was in danger, unless he complied with their demand; which was to give up the wig to them, to be altered and shaped in such manner as to give satisfaction to all his hearers. The parson was highly amused with these representations; and, knowing all attempts at reasoning would be fruitless, determined to make his crazy congregation sensible of their folly, by indulging their whims, though it would be at his own expense. He submitted the wig to their disposal, and a meeting was soon called to regulate the headdress of their poor preacher. Some brought their curling irons, some their scissors, and others a profusion of powder. Nor were they long in commencing their operations—but as no two could agree as to what should be done, and each one insisted on the right of being suited, they fell to quarrelling among themselves, and a scene of uproar ensued—the wig was bandied about among them—the scissors and tongs were applied—it was clipped, frizzled, and snarled, and in a few minutes became a perfect scarecrow.

The wig regulators now all agreed in condemning their own folly, and dispersed with shame, declaring that as the walk and conversation of their preacher were unexceptionable, they would no more interfere in matters in which they had no concern.

The above story conveys an useful lesson to those discontented and restless people, who imagine they are qualified to regulate the affairs of all their acquaintance, and disturb the peace of their neighbors by whimsical complaints about trifles. It also furnishes a hint to those who are continually finding fault with preachers, schoolmasters, magistrates, and editors of newspapers, &c. whose conduct does not always exactly agree with their notions of propriety.

FOREIGN MANNERS.

It seems that one pack of hounds and another pack of boxers have arrived from England at New-York—the last of which are to exhibit their skill for money. The former are well enough—we have no objections to them; but we shall be much mistaken in the morality of our fellow citizens, and as to the vigilance of our magistrates, if those low wretches are quietly permitted to beat and abuse, and possibly kill one another, as has frequently happened in presence of "nobles and divines" in England. We are not yet fashionable enough for such things in the United States.

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS, MESSRS. LANG, TURNER & CO.

New-York, Nov. 8—noon.

FROM ST. CROIX.

Captain Anner, of the ship Chase, from St. Croix, informs that a short embargo was laid on all vessels at St. Croix, in consequence of an attack made on the government schooner St. Thomas, by a brigantine under the old Mexican flag. The St. Thomas being short of hands, was obliged to make a running fight, until she reached Bassin harbor, where she obtained from the garrison a reinforcement, as also a number of volunteers; and thus manned, proceeded to sea on the 23d ult. in pursuit of said vessel. On the 24th, capt. Anner passed within a short distance of said brigantine—the government schooner St. Thomas at the same time in sight from the mast head, to the westward.

We learn, by a letter from our friendly correspondent at Havana, that a Spanish force is to be despatched immediately from that place, to re-occupy Pensacola.

[Charleston Courier.

A letter dated Havana, 18th ult. received by the schooner Comet, says, "Coffee is at a price never before known in this city; sales have actually been made at 33 cents per 100 lbs—and contracts for the coming crop have been made at unprecedented high prices." [Ib.

Arrived at Charleston, Nov. 3, French brig Le Francois, Renaud, Port-au-Prince 20 days. On the 24th ult. off the Bahama Islands, experienced a very heavy gale, but lost nothing. Captain R. reports, that general Boyer, was to take his departure from Port-au-Prince, the day after he sailed, the 20th ult. together with his suite; and that his fleet, amounting in all to 15 in number, were to have sailed in 3 or 4 days, for the purpose of reconnoitering the dominions of Christophe.

MADDER ROOT.

The British ship Crisis, has arrived at Philadelphia from New-Castle, England, with 433 bundles and bales madder root, shipped from Philadelphia in May last; not having been permitted to land the same in England. [Boston Patriot.

It is said that the exports from New-Orleans, for the present year, will amount to twenty millions of dollars.

Those of Savannah, for the year ending on the first inst. amounted to upwards of 14 millions of dollars.

Cotton at New-Orleans on the 4th ult. was selling at 33 cents and but little in market. [Ibid.

Two hundred dollars are offered in New-York, for undoubted information respecting the fate of James Burnside, who left New-York city for Richmond, on the 15th Dec. 1812; since which time he has not been heard of. [Ibid.

An ingenious and experienced smith of this city, who conducts an extensive establishment, says that foreign iron does not generally weld as close as the American; that with the very best heat, neither Russian nor Swedish iron will produce, from the forge, such a smooth and compact surface. This has been repeatedly ascertained from a number of experiments, which have always resulted in favor of native iron, and particularly that obtained at Ridgley's furnace, near Baltimore. Let us then stipulate in our public contracts, that in iron, as well as canvas, the produce of the country shall have a preference, which including our oak and cordage, make all the materials necessary for the construction of our ships of war.

[Washington City Gaz.

We understand that the woods on the mountains back of us, have been on fire for some time past—in some places the fire extends along the Blue Mountain for ten miles together. A number of individuals have suffered considerably, and some have lost their all, owing, perhaps, to the carelessness of some sportsman, who was not careful to extinguish his wad after firing at his game. A gentleman has politely favored us with the following, which doubtless is but a small portion of the damage done:—This morning a gentleman of respectability, from Rockaway Valley, in Morris county, (N. J.) informed the writer of this, that the woods near that place was on fire the most part of last week, and that its ravages was very great—consuming about eleven hundred cord of wood belonging to himself and brother—the dwelling house, barn, and other out-houses, together with the whole summer crop, the property of a Mr. Vanderhoof, and a large tract of woodland, belonging to Martin Ryerson, Esq.—He further stated, that when he left there, which was the latter part of the week, he understood that the fire was extinguished; but the presumption here is, from appearances, the wind being direct from that quarter, that it is not.

PREDICTIONS—FOR SPECULATORS.

The Stock of the Bank of the U. States, sales of which were effected at 160 dollars per share, not many months ago, now drags heavily, if any sales are really made, at about 110.

We predict—No. 1. That it will go down still lower, even to par.

No. 2. That, after a certain report is made to Congress, it will again be inflated, and rise to 120 dollars per share, or upwards—if any body will buy.

No. 3. That in a month after it reaches its highest quotation of price, it will tumble back again into its present state; and, admitting that Congress will not do any thing respecting it, it may settle down at 5 or 10 per cent above par.

For—unless there are some great changes in the relations of the Powers of Europe.—

Unless the independence of Mexico or S. America is acknowledged, and their stores of the precious metals opened to commerce—

Unless there is some important political event at home—or,

Unless the scheme of making a national paper currency, which shall be a legal tender, (as in England) is abandoned or defeated—

It is morally impossible that the Bank of the United States, if it attempts to pay its debts, can divide more than 5 or 6 per cent. on its whole capital, per annum.

More hereafter.—We freely give these hints now that all concerned may profit by them. [Niles' Register.

FROM ROME, AUGUST 6.

A machine has recently been invented to drag the river Tiber, from the Bridge Molle as far as San Paolo, to recover the precious objects which it is generally thought are buried in its bed. Many people are persuaded that the golden candlesticks of Jerusalem will be found; however, should the project of finding these objects (which, perhaps, have not been thrown into the river) fail, great hopes are entertained of obtaining some valuable antiquities, although in a bad state. The design cannot be carried into effect this year, on account of the increase of waters, which takes place annually in autumn.

LATEST FROM INDIA.

By the ship Oscar, Capt. Hart, arrived here yesterday in 117 days from Calcutta, Mr. Topliff has received papers to the 22d June inclusive. We have made the following extracts:—

CALCUTTA, June 22.

Letters from Chandah of the 26th May inform, that the chief, Gunga Sing, had been found soon after the assault, lying near the ramparts wounded in the arm. When assistance was offered to him by our troops, he said it was unnecessary, as he had taken poison, and soon after expired. A considerable quantity of treasure had been found in Candah, and it was expected that more would soon make its appearance.—The Peishwa is said to be about to surrender himself unconditionally to Mr. Elphinstone. It was thought at Chandah that the Rajah of Nagpore would speedily be recaptured. Reports from Carwa mention a fort taken by Col. M'Dowall, in which 50 lacks of rupees have been found.

The insurrection at Ceylon was not subdued. The Ceylonese discover great obstinacy. The security they possess in their jungle retreats, affords them hope and confidence. The British troops suffer greatly from sickness.

A letter dated "camp near Burseah, 5th June," states, that the rains had set in in that quarter, and that the troops were moving to the attack of some fort, which is not named.

Private letters from Madras state that the cholera morbus had made its appearance in the Northern Cicars; and had added considerably to the ravages of a fever, which had sometime prevailed in that quarter. A malignant fever had also occasioned great mortality at Trincomalie.

Mr. Burkhard, an enterprising traveller, who had prosecuted his inquiries in the interior of Africa under the name of Sheik Ibrahim, died at Cairo of Dysentery. It is said his manuscripts have been forwarded to the African Society.

From the Aurora.

Extract of a letter to the editor, dated Chickasaw treaty ground, 5th Oct 1818.

"Being not yet prepared to visit Orleans, as I mentioned in my last, I have as well for curiosity as recreation, fallen in with the company that is collecting about here, and shall wait the issue of the treaty. General Jackson and Governor Shelby arrived in this neighborhood the 29th last month; their object is important; the conclusion of a treaty with the Chickasaw Indians for all the land claimed by them which lies within the bounds of Tennessee and Kentucky. What the result of the negociation will be is yet uncertain; some of the influential chiefs are much opposed; but this discontent I am told, has grown principally out of the new circumstance, of goods having been sent to pay them their annuity due under the former treaty, when it was stipulated that the payment should be made in hard money.

"I have learned with pleasure, that the commissioners have wisely determined not to tender the goods, and have sent to Nashville to raise the money themselves, so as to sustain the good faith and promises of the government. This will, I have no doubt, have the most salutary effect, and will enable them probably to accomplish their object with ease. You who attend to geographical matters, can estimate the importance of this treaty to both Tennessee and Kentucky; to the former, it will give at least ten large counties, and to the latter two or three.

Downingtown, (Pa.) Oct. 27.

A very distressing accident occurred in this village yesterday morning. A taylor, by the name of John Walker, was fixing a flint into the lock of a musket: not knowing, or having forgotten it was loaded, he snapped it several times, resting it nearly level upon the shop board. It at length went off, and the whole contents of a large squirrel charge of shot, wadding, &c. lodged in his brother William Walker's thigh, which was not more than two feet from the muzzle.—It bled profusely, and is extremely painful, but we understand the bone is not fractured. A circumstance which renders this event more distressing, is, this young man had lost one leg in the battle at Chippewa, by a cannon ball, and his thigh was amputated about midway—the other thigh has now received the injury just mentioned.—We also understand that he had a shot in the knee and one in the heel of the same leg, during the war.

We cannot close this account, without expressing our extreme regret—nay our astonishment, that after so many warnings of this description, so many people make such careless use of fire arms. A loaded piece ought never to be pointed about at people, and every gun, before being tampered with, ought to be carefully examined.

Norfolk, November 7.

SAILING OF THE MACEDONIAN.

The United States frigate Macedonian, John Downes, Esq. commander, got under weigh from the navy yard at Gosport, yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, and came to anchor in Hampton Roads about 2 P. M. She was completely equipped with all necessary stores for a long cruize, and sailed into the roads with as much facility as when she came up to the navy yard, about three weeks ago, without many of our citizens being apprised of her approach. Her appearance yesterday was very impressive, for she was in elegant order, and, as we learn, much better prepared for her cruize than when she left Boston, being furnished with many spare articles of equipment, which, from peculiar circumstances, could not be obtained in Boston at the time of her outfit. She will probably sail from the roads on Sunday, bound to the North-West coast of America.

It is due to the activity, zeal and ability of the several departments, and connected with the navy yard at Gosport, which have effected the refitment of this fine ship with so much dispatch, to state, (as we do from good authority) that since her arrival here she has been furnished with an entire new set of masts and spars, (with the exception of a bowsprit) and nearly a complete gang of new rigging. The masts and spars were all made in the yard and put on board in less than two weeks after she anchored there, and in 18 working days, the whole equipment was accomplished.

We are happy to learn that capt. Downes has bestowed the highest commendation on the excellence of the workmanship of every article furnished the ship, from the several mechanical departments in the yard.

While we are by no means disposed to detract from the merits of the commissioners of the navy board, we think it well to mention, for the information of those who have been disposed to ascribe to their good management, the sole credit of the despatch with which this frigate has been refitted, that when the letter of instructions from the navy board, for her repairs, was received here, two of her new masts were in, and the other, with many more articles, in considerable forwardness. [Beacon.

Generals Swift and Bernard, and captain Poinsett, aid to the latter, came passengers in the steam boat Virginia yesterday, from Baltimore, and were landed at Old Point Comfort, where the U. S. fortifications are constructing. Capt. J. B. Nicholson of the navy, Mrs. Mayo, and the lady and child of general Scott also came passengers in the Virgina—general Scott, we understand, left his family at Baltimore to proceed to the seat of government. HORRID CRIME.

Madame Mazas, of Toulouse, (France) became bound for her brother, Moissac, for 1300 francs. When due, her husband went to Moissac to receive the amount, according to his engagement; but his brother-in-law gave him a very evasive and unsatisfactory answer, saying he would see him at Toulouse. Mazas, on his return, informed his wife of the manner in which he had been received, and the latter, indignant at such conduct, only thought of being revenged. On the arrival of her brother, she purchased a large knife; she then went to him, and after loading him with the most violent reproaches, plunged the knife into his heart. The unfortunate victim fell at her feet, and instantly expired. The assassin left the house without any emotion, and went to her own residence to change her dress.—She was immediately taken into custody, and on being interrogated by the Judge d'Instruction, she calmly replied, that if she had shed the blood of her brother, she had strong motives for so doing, and that the want of sincerity on the part of the victim had infuriated her mind, and led her to the commission of the deed.

Some time last summer, a man by the name of John Cleves Symmes, addressed a letter from St. Louis, to the learned Dr. Mitchill, informing him of an important enterprise that he was about to embark in, nothing less, than to undertake to find the way to the polar regions of our planet, and from thence into some other internal worlds. This letter, by some accident, found its way into some of our newspapers, and set the good people all agog with wonder and surprise. The subject went through the public prints like lightning. But anxiety had begun to die away, when it was lighted up afresh by a letter from the Doctor, which first appeared in an Ohio paper, and has now found its way to New-York, thro' the Mercantile Advertiser of yesterday morning. We are sorry we have not room to give it entire, but the concluding paragraphs of this literary curiosity, ought not to be confined to a single paper.

But all these are visions of the imagination, or fictions of poetry—we stand in need of better information—one actual explorer would be better than a thousand inventors of tories.

"How rare and extraordinary would it be to converse with you, on your re-appearance from the internal worlds! I told captain Lewis and captain Riley, on the return of the former from the north west coast of America, and the latter from the frightful deserts of Africa, that I beheld them as, in some sort, visitors from another sphere, so would you really be, after the performance of the project contained in your letter.

ACCOUNT OF THE COMMERCE OF PERU.

From a work just published, we present our readers with the subjoined account of the commerce of Peru, a territory which, from the number of fine ports along its coast, may, as the author observes, be styled the maritime province of the South American States:—

"The trade flows through three channels; by the straits of Magellan from Europe, through the north Pacific from India and Mexico, or Guatamala; and through the interior with the southern provinces of Chili and Buenos Ayres. Since the trade was unshackled in 1778, its exports and imports were doubled, and the principal branch of its commerce is that carried on round Cape Horn.

The exports of Peru are chiefly gold, silver, brandies, sugar, pimento, cinchona, salt, Vienna wool, coarse woollens, and other trifling manufactures.

Its imports are European goods, linens, cottons, woollens, silk, iron, hardware, superfine cloths, mercury, wax, paper, glass, medicine, wines, liquors, books and furniture—from Buenos Ayres it receives Paraguay tea, live stock and provisions, and from the other internal provinces, cocoa-leaf, indigo, tallow, cacao, timber, cordage, pitch and copper.

Chili also supplies Lima with grain and fruits in immense quantities, and salted meat, soap, wine, copper, saffron, &c.

The ports of Peru which are most frequented, are those named Arica, Ho, Iquique, and Quilca, in the intendency of Arequipa, and Pisco, in the south of Lima;—Chancay and Guacho in Lima; and Guanchaco Pacasmay, and Payta, in Truquillo, on the north.

With the southern ports, the trade is in wine, brandy, iron, dried fruits, copper, tin, lead, &c.; with the northern, in wool, cotton, leather, chocolate, rice, and salted fish.

To the Rio de la Plata, the exports are maize, sugar, brandy, pimento, indigo, and woollens—these exports are said to amount to 2,000,000 dollars annually, and the imports from that government to 860,000, consisting in mules, sheep, ham, tallow, wool, cocoa-leaf, Paraguay tea; and 20,000 mules drive annually from Tucuman, for the service of the Peruvian mines. A great trade is also carried on with Guayaquil and Guatamala, but with Panamait, it is almost nothing.

From the Philippine islands, muslins, teas, and other East India goods, are imported, amounting to 270,230 dollars annually, in return for about 2,790,000, exported to Asia, in silver and gold.

The produce of the mines of Peru, including those of Chili, is about 1,730,000 annually; whilst the value of European goods imported is nearly 2,492,000l. the same period—and the value of the agricultural produce exported, of Peru and Chili, is 866,000l.

In this country the population is much scattered, and compose casts who have the greatest distrust of each other, the Indians being the most numerous, and leading a life of indolence and apathy; the natural resources of this fine region are unheeded—and its commerce, far from being restricted by the government, suffers only from the inactivity of its inhabitants."

Valuable Land for Sale.

HAVING more land in the tract on which I reside than I can farm to advantage, I will expose to public sale, on the 5th day of NOVEMBER next, if fair, if not the next fair day, eight hundred acres, divided into lots of two hundred acres: each lot has seventy acres in wood;—of the cleared land one hundred and fifty acres are in clover, and two hundred in rye and wheat. This land is situated ten miles below Alexandria, and is bounded north and east by Accotink creek, which separates the lower part of it from Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price can be had for grain.—It is as fertile as any land in the county, and as susceptible of improvement, by clover and plaster, as any I have seen. Persons wishing to view it will call on the subscriber, living at Cedar Grove, one mile below Janney's mill.

The terms will be one-third of the purchase-money in hand, and the balance in two equal annual payments. The sale will take place at 12 o'clock, on the premises.
EDGAR McCARTY.
Fairfax co. Va. October 6

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each: these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

George Washington were complainants; and Gerard Alexander, Thomas L. Alexander, (by Ludwell Lee, his appointed guardian) Ludwell Lee, R'd. H. L. Washington, John A. Washington, Bushrod C. The above tract of land lies about sixteen miles from Winchester, and about six from Charlestown, on the main road leading from Winchester to Baltimore, the city of Washington and Alexandria. It is well adapted to plaster and clover, and is in quality little inferior, if at all, to any farm in that fertile valley. The improvements on it are a large two story frame dwelling house, a barn and other necessary out houses.—The water is limestone and of excellent quality.

The terms of sale will be one-third of the purchase money, and the balance to be paid with interest, in one, two and three annual instalments, to be secured by a deed of trust on the property.

PROPOSALS,

By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker,

TO PUBLISH

A Splendid Edition of

Washington's Farewell Address,

To the People of the United States.

THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Statesmen—of men who have guided Armies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only ONE WASHINGTON, but ONE MAN, whose dangers in war, and labors in in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benefit of his country; whose wonderful and honorable success, was the plain result of wisdom in design, and valour in execution; whom danger never appalled, nor defeat depressed; who, persevering in the justice of his cause, wooed Victory till he won her: who covetted no reward but the well earned approbation of those whose interest he lived to promote: who renounced all public honors, when they ceased to be the necessary instruments of good to the people, whose gratitude conferred them: who superior to all Monarchs, was content to be called the American Citizen. His career of glory through life, was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be completed, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by MR. AMIES. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.
